

Listen To The Wild

nature's soundscape and the evolution of listening

The sounds of our natural environment are comprised of many voices - how have all these varied animal repertoires evolved?

And how can we appreciate and find meaning in listening to nature's soundworld around us?

Join our audience with naturalist and bioacoustic researcher Andrew Skeoch as he presents beautiful and fascinating recordings from wild places around the world, and inspires you to hear the world afresh.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND!

 PRESENTATION CONTAINS ALL NEW MATERIAL: RESEARCH AND RECORDINGS FROM WILD PLACES*

CASTLEMAINE LIBRARY

THURSDAY 5 NOVEMBER 6PM

FREE EVENT - BOOKINGS REQUIRED - WWW.NCGRL.VIC.GOV.AU - 5472 1458